Cindi Shelburne

Cindi Shelburne is a rarity – a Vero native who graduated from Vero Beach High School. She left Vero, went to the University of Virginia, and after for 40 years moved back home two years ago. Cindi is vice president and program execution director for Leidos, a Fortune 500 company for whom she has worked for since she graduated from college 39 years ago. Like many members, she heard about Impact 100 from her friends Beth Wright and Jean Cravens. Cindi joined because she greatly benefited from the support of others in high school and into early college years in Vero Beach and is excited to give back to this community she loves.

Stephanie Freetly

Stephanie Freetly is the first female partner at Kmetz, Elwell, Graham & Associates, PLLC, where she has worked as a certified public accountant for the past seven years. She heard about Impact 100 through some of her clients and associates and really wanted to meet more women in Vero and be a part of a group that makes such a difference in the community. Stephanie was born in Alabama and grew up in San Diego. She and her husband moved to Denver to live closer to her sister before their daughter was born, but soon realized they wanted to be closer to the water and weren't cold weather people. They moved to Melbourne and love it here!

Charlene Friedman

Charlene Friedman joined Impact 100 the end of April in order to better understand the needs of the nonprofits in Indian River County. Like many members, she heard about Impact from friends and was encouraged to join by Alice Johnson. Originally from Massachusetts, she has been coming to Vero Beach for the past 12 years. When not relaxing at Grand Harbor, she resides in State College, Pennsylvania where she is the broker/owner of Industrial-Commercial Realty, LLC. She is one of only 550 women in real estate who hold the Certified Commercial Investment Member designation, the gold standard for commercial real estate professionals.

Barbara Bollinger

Barbara Bollinger is a forensic pathologist and has done thousands of autopsies, including work in NYC during 9/11, and has given multiple depositions and court testimonies. Like many new members, Barbara heard about Impact 100 from her friend Barbara Ruddy, one of our outstanding ambassadors. She applied for membership after visiting the website and noting the process, which she felt was relatively simple and streamlined. She really believes her membership is an important gift to the community. Plus she hopes to meet like-minded - and not so like-minded! - individuals who share a focus on community resources and enrichment. Originally from Kentucky, Barbara has lived in DC, Rhode Island, New Jersey, NYC, New Mexico, and most recently in Allentown PA. As you might guess, she is "super happy" to be living here full-time, enjoying Vero Beach's warmth, friendliness and cultural amenities. Barbara currently is doing consultative work while she awaits Florida medical licensure.
